Study Center

The study centre is open to all students at Sprogcenter Nordsjælland. It is a supplement to normal Danish classes

You can also attend the study centre one or two days a week if you are unable to attend normal classes due to work or work experience.

At the study centre you can work independently on:

- Your homework assignments
- Training for module tests and examinations
- Audio exercises, and exercises in reading and writing
- Teaching programmes on computer
- Other exercises

There is always a teacher present during study centre opening hours.

At the study centre there are:

- Assignments for individual training in pronunciation, listening, reading and writing
- Assignments for independent module test and exam training
- Assignments for training specific work-related language
- Computers with teaching programmes
